I've worked with Patrick on 2 animated features for now and it was always a pleasure: very pro, quick and a really good state of mind! He has brought super cool and funny ideas to our movies. I won't hesitate to hire him for a next production!

Working with Patrick has been a real pleasure, both professionally and on a human level. From day one he was more than enthusiastic about working on this project, and this positive attitude has never left him. He was very active and put me at ease immediately as I was starting my career as a director. Nevertheless, he was always straightforward in his remarks, and relevant in his ideas and suggestions. He has a real sense of storytelling and a very good working method. He also has a great sense of humour, which he applies wonderfully in his work. I've laughed more than once when I saw his boards. I will definitely call on him in my next production.

I had the pleasure of working with Patrick on a 3d animated series, 'Ziggy and the Zootram'. This man is what I would describe as a top-storyboard-artist. Not only did he deliver high quality storyboards and animatics within the tight deadlines, I feel he really contributed to the humor, content and dynamic of the episodes. He's that person that goes the extra mile to make it 'work', and is not afraid of trying something, or suggesting a different take on things. I can only hope to work with him again on future productions!

Patrick is a rare find when the entire industry is looking for SB artists. He always delivers his storyboard on-time with the quality that we requested. He communicates well, as if he was working in-house. I'll definitely hire Patrick for my next project if he is available.

Thank you, Patrick, for the great job.
